Summary

I'm Lexi — a 22-year-old Python & Django developer from Nigeria with 3+ years of hands-on experience in web development.

I build things. Full-stack web apps, admin dashboards, deployed production systems — I like seeing projects go from idea to live URL. My stack is Django on the backend, JavaScript and Bootstrap on the front, and PostgreSQL for data.

Studying Computer Science & Statistics at the University of Nigeria, which gives me a solid foundation in both the logic and the math behind software.

If you're building something and need a developer who takes ownership — let's connect.
